

It is of great concern that people in need of "help" Dogs be allowed to go any where with them without restrictions. Traveling on an airplane is a very important part of life and because an individual is required to have a Help dog they should not be penalized. Please allow the airlines to respect and give back the degnity they deserve.